14,000 SEE FAIR IN DAY; 1,000 CARS

RECORD AUDIENCE ATTENDED COUNTY EXHIBITION YESTERDAY.

FREE ACTS, RACES AND DISPLAYS HELD CROWDS

Thousands Stood Through Afternoon to View Speed Tests and Attractions—Autos Packed Center.

Today is motor day on the county fair race track. It is bringing motor fiends, fans, fanatics and bugs from everywhere within a radius of twenty and more miles of Maryville. It is expected that before the day is over the crowds will have been as large and the gate receipts as stupendous as they were yesterday, fair officials say.

Yesterday the gate receipts totaled approximately $5,000, while there are about 1,000 season tickets sold. This would indicate that the attendance yesterday was about 15,000, as children are admitted free into the grounds.

About 1,000 automobiles were packed in the center field and around the fair grounds and uptown, being driven from all points of northwest Missouri and southern Iowa. Some even came from southeastern Nebraska. All trains entering the city were jammed with persons bent on seeing the county fair sights.

The free attractions, the aviation flight and bombardment of the "Fort of Idego" by Capt. J. H. Worden, the horse races, agricultural and live stock exhibits and near-balloon ascension, all attracted the crowds. In fact, the afternoon's bill was jammed from beginning to end with good things for the thousands who packed the grand stand, stood dozens deep around the fence near the race track and flocked through the center field and midways all day long.

A cool breeze which swept gently across the grounds from the southeast and south kept the thousands fairly comfortable, however, and at night the county fair audience was treated to the best of all horse shows of the week, in addition to a repetition of the free attractions.

The pyrotechnic display by "Fearless" Blondin also was unusually good, the feature being a Zeppelin attack.

While the Thursday of last year's fair was considered a record breaker, it didn't have a look-in to the crowd yesterday or today.

Cut Out Fire Work Display.

One of the big attractions tonight at the county fair will be an exhibition of all Nodaway county livestocks in front of the grand stand. It will comprise an exhibition of the saddle horses draft horses, mules, cattle and hogs.

There will be the usual aerial bombardment this afternoon, and flights by Capt. J. H. Worden in his Moisant monoplane.

The usual pyrotechinical displays that have been given each day of the fair will be missed by the fair crowds tonight and tomorrow night, according to plans made today by Mr. Mason. The fire works have been one of the big night attractions and have been put on by "Fearless" Blondin, whose real name is Mark Reese.

Blondin expects to make Maryville his home, beginning next week. Mrs. Blondin will go to Omaha tomorrow and accompany Blondin's mother here. He will continue his fireworks manufactury here however.

The final night horse show of the county fair was held last night before a crowd of perhaps 10,000 persons. There were many entries for each of the two classes shown, each appearing up good. The additional prize of a $200 loving cup, offered by Ferd M. Townsend, was quite an inducement to the show horse owners.

In the first display of light harness stallions, mare or gelding, there were ten entries. Dan Hur, owned by Don Riley of St. Joseph, took first prize; James Boegle, also a Riley horse, took second and Omega Flash, owned by Col. R. G. Mundy of Lathrop, won third money.

In the display of five-gaited stallion, mare or gelding, there were nine entries. A close competitor was The Rooster, the trick horse owned by Col. J. H. Tapp of Smithville, who got second. Betty B, owned by C. D. Hocker of Guilford, took third.

After the class displays The Rooster gave a special exhibition of his tricks in dancing, bowing, kneeling and "turn table" stunts. Roelofson Brothers also gave an exhibition of the pony tandem. A grand parade of draft horses also was held before the grand stand.

COMRADES BANQUET

SPANISH AMERICAN SOLDIERS HOLD SECOND REUNION.

TO BE ANNUAL AFFAIR

Permanent Organization Formed—Will Hold Meets Each Year in Future—Twenty-One Present Last Night.

With the original flag, which was carried at the head of Company E, when it marched away to service in the Spanish-American war of '98, floating over the banquet table at the Linville hotel last night, twenty-one of the company sat down to a reunion feast, the second of its kind, held since the company was "mustered out."

The "boys" were seated at one long table and the mess call to assemble all at nine o'clock was sounded by the bugler of the company, W. A. Lippman of St. Louis, who came to Maryville yesterday morning for the reunion.

H. D. Snyder, first sergeant, presided as toastmaster. The address of welcome was made by Henry Moore and the response given by Floyd Bradley of St. Joseph. Next followed roll call by Mr. Snyder and a talk by W. A. Lippman.

During the dining, music was furnished by Miss Nash's orchestra and the concluding number "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," ended the formal program and stories reminiscent of camp life were "swapped" over the cigars, until "taps" were sounded and company E, disbanded again until next year.

Form Permanent Organization.

A permanent organization with Paul Sisson, president; H. D. Snyder, secretary and Henry Moore, treasurer; was effected last night after the banquet for the purpose of making these reunions an annual event. The place and time of holding the 1916 meet will be decided at a later meeting of the executive officers.

Lieut. Paul Sisson was out of the city at the time the arrangements for the banquet were made and was not expected at the gathering. He arrived last night in time to attend and to place on the table, the original flag of the company, presented to the soldier boys by the women of Maryville, which has been in his care since that time.

One of the interesting features of the meeting was the reading of letters received from practically every one of the members living at a distance who could not come.

The parlors of the Linville were engaged for the company assembly rooms and all met here during the day and visited and looked over pictures and relics of camp life. During the afternoon they attended the county fair in a body.

Those present were, Lieut. Paul Sisson, First Sergeant, H. D. Snyder; Sergeants, Henry Moore O. A. Bennett and A. R. Reasoner; Corporals J. Frank Pixler and Elmer Forsman; Musician, W. A. Lippman; Privates Charles E. Branson, Flody Bradley, Walter Boyer, Luke Brown, W. A. Johnson, Novia Lowe, Frank Lovell, George McMurray, Clarence Phipps, William Patterson, John W. Shinabargar, Jesse Shinabargar and Joseph J. Turner. Captain John K. Ross of Company F., was a special guest at the banquet.

Benedict Suggested That U. S. Be Mediation medium—Some Obstacles in Way.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The president sees no immediate possibility of a reconciliation of the European belligerents. He is consequently now holding open any hopes or suggestions for neutrals to renew offers of mediation.

The obstacles to peace at this time are:

Germany's determination to hold certain territory and the allies' conviction that peace while Germany holds all honors would not be permanent.

Confidential inquiries at Petrograd, Berlin, Vienna, Paris and London have brought the response that it is not now an opportune time for mediation.

Rome, Sept. 3.—It has been learned that the pope's suggestions to the United States were that President Wilson ask the belligerents to meet in a great conference with neutral nations also to have representatives present.

The insurance on the residence was $800.00 and on the furniture $400.00. This is a record in rapidity of settlement. It was a real test of efficiency, and the kind that leaves no doubt for the people who carry

Why not have an old settler's day next year?

Do you know it is as easy to think in big figures as little ones, and the man who catches big fish use big bait?

September has made a beautiful start. If the sample so far received furnishes a correct outlook for the month, business will take on new life and the crop of smiles will be greatly increased.

An exchange is praying for a man who will invent an auto that will last until it is paid for. That depends on who is to do the paying. If it is an editor, he would better split the difference and let it go at that.

General Orozco, the hero of many desperate battles in the numerous revolutions in Mexico, is dead. He made a final fatal mistake. So long as he confined his operations to Mexico he got along very well, but when he undertook to lead a band into Texas his journey was about ended. The general knew Mexico, but he didn't know the Texas ranger. His introduction was four bullets through his body.

The most successful business men are those who do not let their bills run longer than thirty days, and this is a good rule for everybody. It is not always practicable to pay cash in advance, but it is never advisable for a man to let his bills run until he is lost in a maze of debt and confusion. The best way in the world to economize is to pay as you go, and then you will never get in beyond your depths. Those who practice prompt payment always know what they can afford and do not speculate on future income. They don't spend money until they have it in sight, and the man who lives up to that rule is not likely to ever face starvation whether in business or out of business.

Several "Non-Coms" Reduced to Privates While Others Take Places—Band Leaves Sunday.

With the talk of preparedness in the air and thoughts turning everywhere to military affairs, unusual interest attaches to the encampment of the Fourth regiment in Swope park, Kansas City, during the week beginning Sunday.

Col. John D. McNeely of St. Joseph, head officer of the regiment, who will participate in the Swope park encampment, has received instructions for the conduct of the maneuvers there from Capt. C. M. Company F, a member of the Fourth regiment, which will encamp next week at Kansas City, will have a quota of between 50 and 60 men in the encampment, according to Captain John K. Ross, today. The company now has an enlistment of 65, several of whom have been away but are returning for the encampment.

A detail consisting of First Sergeant Claude Wilson, and Privates Ray Edmundson and Joseph McNeal, left yesterday afternoon for Kansas City to prepare for the reception of the company on its arrival there tomorrow night. The detail will put up the tents and have the commissary and cooking shanty all ready, likewise a meal all ready for the boys.

The remainder of the company will leave here on the southbound Burlington train tomorrow afternoon and arrive at the camp early tommorrow night. The members will return to Maryville September 13, it is announced.

Changes in the Company.

The following reductions have been ordered this week in Company F, by Colonel John McNeely, commanding the regiment: Seargeants Bert Woodard, Perry Crandall, Clifford Skinner and John Watts and Corporal Thomas Ernest to the rank of private.

These have been promoted to the ranks of sargeants: Otto Long, Veyne Hann, Ross Deets and Arch Colden. These are promoted to the rank of corporals: Bert Kariker, Ralph Clayton and Charles Carnell.

The Fourth regiment band members will not leave Maryville until Sunday morning, it is announced. About twenty-five will accompany the band.

Guests at Hopper Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Emas James of College Springs, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones and young daughter of Mount Arbor, Mo., spent the day yesterday in Maryville the guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Hopper.

Monday is Labor Day.

Next Monday is observed quite generally in the large cities and manufacturing towns as a holiday, it being Labor day. Little attention to the day will be paid in Maryville, however.

THRESHING NOW IN PROGRESS

Wheat and Oats Now Going Through Separator Over Nodaway County—Quality Poor.

Threshing is now in full swing, as can be readily seen by anyone making a trip over Nodaway county. Nearly every threshing machine in this part of the country is now in the fields, and the familiar whistles of the engines may be heard in almost every direction. While a few machines have been threshing for the past three weeks, it was only a few days ago that the work began in earnest.

There has not been a very large amount of oats threshed yet, according to reports. The farmers are threshing their wheat and timothy seed first. According to reports from over the country the wheat is averaging about twenty-five bushels to the acre.

It is hard to tell what the oats in this part of the country will average, as in almost every field some of the oats had to be left standing on account of the wet ground, and in many places the binders ran over them without cutting them.

According to reports of the farmers the grain is badly colored from the wet weather, and although it will not be first gradde it will find a ready sale.

It will probably be several weeks before the threshing in this part of the country is finished, as it is impossible for the machines to make as much headway as in a dry year. The heavy engines and machines have been having considerable trouble in certain parts of the country in getting through the soft roads and fields.

PREPARE FOR BALL TOURNEY

The baseball teams of Clarinda, Iowa, Hopkins and Clearmont have been selected as three of the four teams to engage in the tournament to be held at Clearmont next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Prizes aggregating $350 are offered.

The Burlington Boosters had first promised to engage in the tournament, but have since declined to engage in the contest, so this leaves one team to be selected yet. Cleve Funk, manager of the Federals here, said he would not enter, as the expenses would be greater than the prize, even should the Feds win first of $125.

The Clearmont band will give concerts during the tournament, the grand stand at the ball park, has been enlarged to seat three times as many as it did.

BEDFORD TO HAVE TOURNAMENT.

Iowa Town to Have Four-Team Base-Ball Contest Sept. 13 to 18.

A four-team base ball tournament will be held at Bedford, Ia., Sept. 13 to 18, for which $350 in prizes are offered. The teams which will compete with Bedford for the prizes have not yet been announced. Bedford came out fourth in the Hopkins tournament.

REMOVAL OF BERT RAINES, COUNCIL HEAD, LEAVES VACANCY.

MAY CALL AN ELECTION

Colleagues May Demand That Position Be Filled at Once—Mayor Can Appoint Soon—Burris Back.

When the city council meets tonight in regular session, there will be one announcement made which may result in a special election being called in Maryville soon for the purpose of electing a councilman for a period of about eight months. For Bert Raines, councilman for the last seventeen months from the Third ward, will announce his removal to the Fourth ward, which consequently will necessitate the selection of a successor.

Mr. Raines' family really moved several days ago but he has been sleeping in a tent in the old place in the Third ward several nights this week, so that he really is entitled to a voice at the meeting tonight. Whether the place will be filled by a special election or the position left open until six months before Raines' time would have expired, when the mayor has power to appoint a successor, has not been determined.

Council May Demand Election.

It is generally believed however, that a majority of the councilmen will vote tonight to make the selection by special election, instead of giving Mayor U. S. Wright that privilege. It is not necessary for Mr. Raines to resign, the place becoming vacant automatically on his removal.

Mr. Raines was elected councilman from the Third ward in April, 1914, for a term of two years.

The appointment of a city clerk also will come up tonight. Mayor Wright announced this morning that he would again name William Burris for thirty days, for that position.

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

Will open for the Fall Quarter Tuesday, September 14th, 1915. Let the above remind the citizens of Maryville and Nodaway county that they have at home an educational institution of collegiate rank, equipped and maintained by the state and doing work of equal worth in comparison with other institutions of its kind, and commended by educators of national standing. It offers:

1. A standard four-year college course for high school graduates, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education, including professional training in education and opportunity for specialization in various lines. This course is equal to any standard academic college course.
2. A three-year college course for high school graduates, leading to a life diploma and a minimum preparation for high school teaching.
3. A two-year college course for high school graduates, leading to a life diploma for teaching in rural and elementary schools.
4. A one-year college course for high school graduates, leading to a two-year state certificate for teaching in the public schools.
5. A standard high school course, fitting the student for entrance to the above college courses and open to those who have only partial or no high school advantages in their home community.
6. A Rural Certificate course of three years of standard high school work. This certificate is issued by the State Superintendent of Schools. The amount of time necessary to complete it is dependent upon the amount of high school work the student has already completed. This course will become a four-year course after January, 1917.

The Normal School faculty is made up of men and women trained in our best universities and colleges, the extent and adequacy of their training comparing very favorably with the best of other institutions of like grade. Its equipment is extensive and adequate and is carefully selected. Its courses of study are carefully arranged to meet comparison with the best, and embody due emphasis upon the standard culture courses, as well as the newer points of view in Agriculture, Home Economics, Manual Training, Music, Art and Physical Education, and in the technique of the theory and practice of teaching and the administration of education.

Its phases of work are grouped under the representative heads of Agriculture, Biology, Chemistry, Commerce, Education, English, Fine Arts, Geography, German, History and Government, Home Economics, Manual Arts, Mathematics, Music, Physical Education, Physics, Public Speaking.

The incidental fees are low and comparatively few in number.

Why send your sons and daughters long distances from home to secure what is practically at your door?

Hundreds of citizens of Maryville do not know this school well enough to give their friends and relatives in other places and the stranger who may inquire, an adequate and correct impression of its significance, its high grade work, or the extent of its equipment. We trust they will visit the school and gain a present day viewpoint. Its standards are right—its results must be right. May we not ask home folks to get acquainted with what is recognized as high grade elsewhere?

Do not forget that those of you who have work which you can give to others during the fall, winter and spring months may help worthy young men and women by notifying me.

Those who would keep students in their homes for board or room or both must have their places approved before we can place them on our list or send students to them. This is done by the majority of schools and colleges. Please do not object to it.

Remember the Fall Quarter opens Tuesday, September 14th, and the enrollment of the children of the Training School will be on Wednesday, September 15, 1915.

Very truly yours,
IRA RICHARDSON, President.

HONEST INSPECTOR NOT ENCOURAGED

Local Juries Won't Convict, Says Mrs. Florence Kelley.

SHE WANTS A FEDERAL LAW.

Child labor laws will not be enforced until there is a federal law which the government will enforce. So Mrs. Florence Kelley told the Eleventh Annual Conference on Child Labor at its recent San Francisco meeting. During her wide and varied experience Mrs. Kelley has accumulated many examples of why a state child labor law can never be properly enforced and why the federal government must take a hand in it.

"After a state child labor law is on the statute books the difficulties of the inspectors are only a part of the obstacles that confront the state in getting that law enforced. If an inspector works very hard he is commonly removed—that is, if he works hard and honestly and ably. I have watched inspectors working hard, honestly and ably being removed for thirty-three years. One who does not work hard and ably and honestly will probably be removed anyhow when the politics of the state changes.

"While the inspector is working hard, ably and honestly it is exceedingly difficult to get a law enforced, if prosecution is required, because local magistrates are usually reluctant to enforce it and local juries to uphold it. Some years ago we were prosecuting in Chicago a certain sweater who had employed sixteen girls illegally. A dozen witnesses were subpoenaed, and they all swore cheerfully that the law had been kept, although they knew that they had been working illegally that day.

"The justice thought it a merry jest that we could not get warrants against those perjured witnesses. He said, 'If I were going to choke my office up with perjury suits against witnesses in minor cases we would not get any business done,' so those perjured witnesses went scot free."

As a further illustration Mrs. Kelley spoke of the difficulty the New York State Department of Labor has experienced in the past two years in prosecuting canners. The trouble was not with perjured witnesses there, but with local juries. The local juries would not convict because most of them were farmers who sell their goods to the canneries and had no idea of participating in the punishment of their customers. "That condition is so widespread throughout New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware," said Mrs. Kelley, "that there is no present hope of enforcing the child labor law in the canneries of those states with local jurors in local courts.

"I do not share the milleannial belief that we shall in any near future have our laws obeyed by the agreement of employers and employees in industries in which the employees are unorganized. Laws are obeyed only where there are powerful organizations of workers to compel obedience. But where there is a body of helpless aliens, as in most sweated industries, or in remote villages far from the searchlight it will take a great deal of evidence to convince me that all employers will voluntarily obey the child labor law. Our immediate need is the passage of a federal child labor law to enable the federal government to enforce the law."

A federal law would not only protect people outside of North Carolina from receiving goods manufactured by children in North Carolina, but it would protect people in that state from having to buy tenement goods from New York.—Owen R. Lovejoy.

If you want to see white children in many southern communities you must go before sunrise and catch them on their way to the cotton mills. Only colored children are to be seen going to and from school.

If the eight hour day really took all children under sixteen out of the factories we should not have to work toward a sixteen year age limit.—Owen R. Lovejoy.

MAY GET WATER ON EAST SIDE OF 102

CITY BOARD ORDERS THOROUGH PROBE OF NEW PROPOSITION.

WOULD CUT EXPENSE AND GET "SOFT" AQUA

Experimental Tests Show Better Fluid On East Side of River —Would Pipe It Across Stream.

The sand point system for the municipal water plant is to be carried to the east side of the 102 river, according to plans now under way by the Board of Public works. Superintendent J. H. Martin and Mr. Hooper, who had charge of the installation of the sand points on this side of the river, were instructed to carry on such an investigation, at a meeting of the board of public works last night.

Several experimental points have been put down this week, under the direction of Superintendent Martin, which has proved that the water on that side of the river is free from iron and is not "hard" like that taken from the wells on this side. The water otherwise is also believed to be of a better grade.

In such a case there would be no need for aeration as now is the case, so that the water could be pumped directly from the sand point wells to the reservoir up town. At present the sand point water must be pumped into a reservoir and aerated, thereby requiring two pumpings.

Would Pipe it Across.

It is planned to convey the water in a ten-inch pipe over the dam, across the river. The pipe would be placed about one foot below the water surface and directly above or against the dam works.

By laying it in this position, it is believed the pipe would be in less danger through drift or ice floes. It is not believed by Mr. Martin nor Mr. Hooper that the expense would be great and that the cost of pumping the water from the other side of the river would be less than in pumping from this side.

The board of public works will make an estimate of the cost of such an improvement and decide soon whether to install several permanent points on that side and lay a pipe across the river.

No other business was done by the board at its meeting last night, except to allow the usual bills.

MANY SPEEDERS ENTERED

Dashes Over Half-Mile Course Are Announced—Several Horse Meets Will Precede "Gas" Tests.

The automobile, the motorcycle and the bicycle are holding the race track at the county fair this afternoon, while a crowd packed dozens deep around the course and nearly double decked through the grand stand and as big as yesterday, is witnessing it.

The races started with a farmers' county half-mile trot or pace, followed by a mule race of one mile. But then came the motor races, first being a twenty-mile automobile dash for a purse of $100. Then came a twenty-mile motorcycle dash, then a two-mile automobile dash for stock or dealers' cars only.

The next race is to be a one-mile automobile race, under the conditions that speedometers must be covered and driver have no timepieces. The winner will be the one making the mile nearest to three minutes, it being more of a time race than a speed race.

A two-mile motorcycle dash is to follow with a one-mile bicycle race for boys under 16 years old, as the finale, this afternoon.

Tomorrow's Races.

Races scheduled for tomorrow, the closing day of the county fair, are the 2:20 trot, three-fourths mile running race for non-winners, a seven-eighths mile race with Derby winners barred, a "get-away special" for five-eighths mile, and as a finale a farmers' half-mile dash county pony race for horses under 15 hands high.

A record was broken in the first two heats of the first race yesterday afternoon, as mentioned briefly yesterday in The Democrat-Forum. It was made by The Ghost, owned by Frank Lyons of Brookfield. He won the first money in the heats, but took 2:14 to make the final. Charles C., owned by M. G. Hiney of Salina, Kan., took second; Kid Riley, by Tom Patton, Salina, Kan., took third and Anona, by J. M. Wray, Creston, got fourth.

The results of the three-fourths mile race were: First, Lee Harrison, by C. Hill; second, Klepper, by Hall Brothers; third, Lassie Dere, by F. D. Slaughter; fourth, Ballancer, by Frank McClain, Maryville. Time, 1:17½.

The results of the half-mile race were: First, Lovers' Lane, by Crit Richenson; second, Mylore, by A. N. Hayden; third, Personality, by E. T. Philpot. Time, 50¼ seconds.

The results of the second five-eighths mile race were: First, Gertrude Dix, by H. Shields; second, Bon Ton, by C. Hill; third, Classy Variety, by Frank McClain. Time, 1:03¼.

The entries announced this morning for the twenty-mile automobile dash this afternoon at the county fair, were T. L. Robinson, Stutz; Mrs. Charles Moore, Buick; Charles Moore, Blue car; Everett Bailey and Fred Sterens, of Conway, Iowa.

The entries announced for the two-mile dash were: Jim Brown, Tom Davis, Harry Wells, Wake Faubion, Dwight Davis of Sheridan and Solon Clark.

The entries announced for the one-mile automobile dash were: Fred Vandersloot, I. J. Phipps, Perry Wilkerson, James A. Ford, Dr. C. M. Cline, Dr. James Felix, Ferd Townsend and Frank Sanders.

HENRY FORD CRIES FOR WORLD PEACE

Will Devote Life and Fortune to Cause of Amity.

WAR USELESS SLAUGHTER.

Asserts That Isolation of United States Is Sufficient Insurance Against Invasion and Warns Country Against Preparedness, Which He Calls the Root of All War.

Detroit, Mich.—Henry Ford's wealth, gained in the pursuit of the things of peace, will be offered to the world to aid in its effort for an unending peace, to oppose the spirit of militarism in every form and to challenge the American who cries for more armament for his country.

"I will do everything in my power to prevent murderous, wasteful war in America and in the whole world; will devote my life to fight this spirit which is now felt in the free and peaceful air of the United States—the spirit of militarism, mother to the cry of 'Preparedness,' the root of all war."

These words, uttered by Henry Ford, mark the beginning of what henceforth will be the life work of the man—to strike with everything he commands at what he declares to be the direct cause of all war and all national antipathies that breed war—preparedness.

"I would teach the child at its mother's knee," said Mr. Ford, "what a horrible, wasteful and unavailing thing war is. In the home and in the schools of the world I would see the child taught to feel the uselessness of war, that war is a thing unnecessary, that preparation for war can end only in war.

"I have prospered much, and I am ready to give much to end this constant, wasteful 'preparation'—not by building peace, not by inspiring fearful peace by powerful armament, but by teaching the men, women and children of America that war does not threaten us, that war will not reach us, and that the fullness of peace is their inheritance, not the burden of militarism.

"They have called in Thomas Edison to help their war plans. Let me say that Mr. Edison never has had and, in my opinion, never will use his great brain to make anything which would destroy human life or human property. He could destroy nothing. His mind is a constructive mechanism that abhors destruction, and war is destruction. He is a man of peace, for he realizes the true meaning of war—wanton, unnecessary and unreasoning destruction, death and disruption of all that peace has builded.

"We build a vast naval machine today. A few months hence it is surpassed by that of another country and is practically useless. We give our soldiers a death dealing rifle. Tomorrow another nation's soldiers have a weapon that surpasses ours.

"The United States has spent more than a billion dollars on a navy and army that were to cope with an invasion that never occurred and never will occur. And yet the very 'war experts' who are responsible for that burdensome army and navy admit that our army and navy would never have been able to meet with any hope of success those of other so called powers."

"I could today make vast sums from warfare if I so chose, but it would be better to die a pauper than that anything I have helped to make or that any thought, word or act of mine should be used for the furtherance of this slaughter.

"I know of nothing to which I would rather give my life, nothing that would give me a more certain feeling that I was doing a man's work, nothing that would make me feel more content in the knowledge that I had done a great duty that had been placed before me, than to use that which I have to help bring to an end 6,000 years of this unjustified hatred, ruthless waste, destruction and murder."

18,000 LIBRARIES IN U. S. HAVE 75,000,000 VOLUMES.

Number of Books Has Increased 20,000,000 Since 1908.

New York.—There are 18,000 established libraries in the United States, containing more than 75,000,000 volumes, according to statistics just compiled by the United States bureau of education. The number of volumes is an increase of 20,000,000 since 1908.

Of the 2,849 libraries containing 5,000 volumes or over 1,844 are classified as public and society libraries, and 1,005 are school and college libraries. Public and society libraries have an aggregate of over 50,000,000 volumes, with 7,000,000 borrowers' cards in force; 1,446 of these libraries were entirely free to the public.

Libraries reporting from 1,000 to 5,000 volumes numbered 5,453, of which 2,188 were public and society libraries and 3,265 school libraries. These libraries contained 11,689,942 volumes. Another group of still smaller libraries, comprising those that reported from 300 to 1,000 volumes, increased the total by 2,901,007 volumes.

The distribution of library facilities is still uneven. Of the 1,844 public and society libraries reported for the entire United States more than half were in the north Atlantic states, and they contained 24,627,921 volumes out of the total of 50,000,000, and of the 3,000,000 volumes added to library collections for the year 1913 almost one-half were for the same section.

New York state had 7,812,621 volumes in her 214 libraries; Massachusetts, 7,389,024 in 285 libraries; Pennsylvania, 3,728,070, and Illinois, 3,168,765 volumes. Four-fifths of the borrowers' cards in use were in the north Atlantic and north central states.

New York.—From dancing for the delight of the public to touring the continent in a decorated automobile for the cause of woman's suffrage is Joan Sawyer's recent change in vocation.

In a car presented by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt and Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, with gay suffrage banners floating over it, this modern dancer left New York for San Francisco, bearing a message of good will and congratulation from the eastern suffragists to their sisters in the west.

In every town she dances for the crowds which always gather about her little car, and in many cities the machine blocks all traffic.

"I have never been able to do anything for suffrage before," she says, "because I have always been busy.

MISS JOAN SAWYER AS SHE LEFT NEW YORK.

But I felt if this pilgrimage would help in any way I was perfectly willing to undertake it."

Miss Sawyer carries her pilgrim scrip. It is signed by Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, chairman of Manhattan Borough Woman Suffrage party. It follows:

We are intrusting to Miss Joan Sawyer a Nov. 2 New York state victory banner and are sending by her a message to our voting sisters across the continent to help in every way possible in New York state. We ask you who have obtained the franchise to send some of your splendid women to the east to tell our voters what you have done and what you plan to do, and how much more effective your womanhood, wifehood and comradeship are since you have become enfranchised.

Our chance for winning in New York state grows brighter every day. We feel that victory is certain, but want you all to help make assurance doubly sure.

A CHARTER FOR CHILDHOOD.

Ohio Codifies Child Welfare Laws, but No Other State Does.

If any one asks what the laws affecting children are in New York state no person in any position can without considerable research answer the question, according to a statement made by Homer Folks at the Eleventh Annual Conference on Child Labor. The only state in the Union where it could be readily answered is Ohio, since Ohio is the only state that has codified its child welfare laws.

A committee appointed last May at the National Conference of Charities and Corrections, with C. C. Carstens of Boston at its head and Edward N. Clopper of the National Child Labor Committee as one of its most active members, is now at work drafting a children's charter that would show how all laws relating to children should be co-ordinated and that could be adopted as a whole or in part according to the needs of the individual state.

The benefits of the children's charter will not be confined to a clearing up of the principles on which the various organizations and committees which are interested in the needs and rights of childhood should base their work. In fact, the friends of the charter are inclined to believe that its greatest value may lie in the simple fact that it will encourage co-operation. The drafting of the charter, which will be in itself a co-operative effort, will teach workers in the various fields to think of their work as a part of a larger whole. The relation, for instance, between the school attendance officer, the factory inspector, the juvenile court worker and the administrator of mothers' pensions will become a practical help to each of them. For the child such co-operation all along the line should mean that the care that is now available for the child who happens to come under the eye of the official or social worker who is fitted to meet his case will be extended to a larger proportion of those who need it.

BOYS ON THE NIGHT SHIFT.

Pennsylvania Now Prohibits It, but Maryland and West Virginia Do Not.

After Jan. 1, 1916, no more young boys will be working on the night shift in the glass factories of the largest glass manufacturing state in the country—Pennsylvania.

This means that West Virginia and Maryland are now the only glass manufacturing states of any importance which permit children under sixteen to work at night. An attempt was made in West Virginia last winter to prohibit night work to children under sixteen, but the bill did not pass. The National Child Labor Committee, which took an active part in the campaign for the West Virginia law, believes that the outcome will be quite different the next time, because the glass manufacturers there will no longer fear the competition of Pennsylvania.

"We may not even have to wait until the legislatures meet in 1917 to bring these states into line," said Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary of the National Child Labor Committee. "If the federal child labor bill which will be introduced into congress early in the next session becomes a law it will automatically establish a sixteen year limit for night work in the glass factories of Maryland and West Virginia. The children now exposed to the serious physical harm likely to come from going out into the air from the overheated glass factory and the cramped positions in which they work, combined with the degrading and corrupting influences which prevail on the night force in the factory, will be protected by Uncle Sam.

"If you could see the boys, as I have seen them, working in a temperature which frequently rises to more than 100 degrees, their shoes cut with the broken glass which covers the floor, holding the mold for the red hot glass or walking endlessly back and forth carrying bottles to the annealing oven, you would realize that the only thing that mattered was to get them out the quickest and surest way—by means of a federal law."

RECORD AUDIENCE ATTENDED COUNTY EXHIBITION YESTERDAY.

FREE ACTS, RACES AND DISPLAYS HELD CROWDS

Thousands Stood Through Afternoon to View Speed Tests and Attractions—Autos Packed Center.

Today is motor day on the county fair race track. It is bringing motor fiends, fans, fanatics and bugs from everywhere within a radius of twenty and more miles of Maryville. It is expected that before the day is over the crowds will have been as large and the gate receipts as stupendous as they were yesterday, fair officials say.

Yesterday the gate receipts totaled approximately $5,000, while there are about 1,000 season tickets sold. This would indicate that the attendance yesterday was about 15,000, as children are admitted free into the grounds.

About 1,000 automobiles were packed in the center field and around the fair grounds and uptown, being driven from all points of northwest Missouri and southern Iowa. Some even came from southeastern Nebraska. All trains entering the city were jammed with persons bent on seeing the county fair sights.

The free attractions, the aviation flight and bombardment of the "Fort of Liego" by Capt. J. H. Worden, the horse races, agricultural and live stock exhibits and near-balloon ascension, all attracted the crowds. In fact, the afternoon's bill was jammed from beginning to end with good things for the thousands who packed the grand stand, stood dozens deep around the fence near the race track and flocked through the center field and midways all day long.

A cool breeze which swept gently across the grounds from the southeast and south kept the thousands fairly comfortable, however, and at night the county fair audience was treated to the best of all horse shows of the week, in addition to a repetition of the free attractions.

The pyrotechnic display by "Fearless" Blondin also was unusually good, the feature being a Zeppelin attack.

While the Thursday of last year's fair was considered a record breaker, it didn't have a look-in to the crowd yesterday or today.

Cut Out Fire Work Display.

One of the big attractions tonight at the county fair will be an exhibition of all Nodaway county livestocks in front of the grand stand. It all comprise an exhibition of the saddle horses draft horses, mules, cattle and hogs.

There will be the usual aerial bombardment this afternoon, and flights by Capt. J. H. Worden in his Moisant monoplane.

The usual pyrotechinical displays that have been given each day of the fair will be missed by the fair crowds tonight and tomorrow night, according to plans made today by Mr. Mason. The fire works have been one of the big night attractions and have been put on by "Fearless" Blondin, whose real name is Mark Reese.

Blondin expects to make Maryville his home, beginning next week. Mrs. Blondin will go to Omaha tomorrow and accompany Blondin's mother here. He will continue his fireworks manufactury here however.

COMRADES BANQUET

SPANISH AMERICAN SOLDIERS HOLD SECOND REUNION.

TO BE ANNUAL AFFAIR

Permanent Organization Formed—Will Hold Meets Each Year in Future—Twenty-One Present Last Night.

With the original flag, which was carried at the head of Company E, when it marched away to service in the Spanish-American war of '98, floating over the banquet table at the Linville hotel last night, twenty-one of the company sat down to a reunion feast, the second of its kind, held since the company was "mustered out."

The "boys" were seated at one long table and the mess call to assemble all at nine o'clock was sounded by the bugler of the company, W. A. Lippman of St. Louis, who came to Maryville yesterday morning for the reunion.

H. D. Snyder, first sergeant, presided as toastmaster. The address of welcome was made by Henry Moore and the response given by Floyd Bradley of St. Joseph. Next followed roll call by Mr. Snyder and a talk by W. A. Lippman.

During the dining, music was furnished by Miss Nash's orchestra and the concluding number "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," ended the formal program and stories reminiscent of camp life were "swapped" over the cigars, until "taps" were sounded and company E, disbanded again until next year.

Form Permanent Organization.

A permanent organization with Paul Sisson, president; H. D. Snyder, secretary and Henry Moore, treasurer; was effected last night after the banquet for the purpose of making these reunions an annual event. The place and time of holding the 1916 meet will be decided at a later meeting of the executive officers.

Lieut. Paul Sisson was out of the city at the time the arrangements for the banquet were made and was not expected at the gathering. He arrived last night in time to attend and to place on the table, the original flag of the company, presented to the soldier boys by the women of Maryville, which has been in his care since that time.

One of the interesting features of the meeting was the reading of letters received from practically every one of the members living at a distance who could not come.

The parlors of the Linville were engaged for the company assembly rooms and all met here during the day and visited and looked over pictures and relics of camp life. During the afternoon they attended the county fair in a body.

Those present were, Lieut. Paul Sisson, First Sergeant, H. D. Snyder; Sergeants, Henry Moore O. A. Bennett and A. R. Reasoner; Corporals J. Frank Pixler and Elmer Forsman; Musician, W. A. Lippman; Privates Charles E. Branson, Flody Bradley, Walter Boyer, Luke Brown, W. A. Johnson, Novia Lowe, Frank Lovell, George McMurray, Clarence Phipps, William Patterson, John W. Shinabargar, Jesse Shinabargar and Joseph J. Turner. Captain John K. Ross of Company F., was a special guest at the banquet.

Benedict Suggested That U. S. Be Mediation medium—Some Obstacles in Way.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The president sees no immediate possibility of a reconciliation of the European belligerents. He is consequently now holding open any hopes or suggestions for neutrals to renew offers of mediation.

The obstacles to peace at this time are:

Germany's determination to hold certain territory and the allies' conviction that peace while Germany holds all honors would not be permanent.

Confidential inquiries at Petrograd, Berlin, Vienna, Paris and London have brought the response that it is not now an opportune time for mediation.

Rome, Sept. 3.—It has been learned that the pope's suggestions to the United States were that President Wilson ask the belligerents to meet in a great conference with neutral nations also to have representatives present.

The two-story frame residence belonging to and occupied by Mrs. Ed McMillan, 215 West Third Street was destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, September 1. At 3 o'clock on the same afternoon the agents for this district notified R. E, Glass, the special adjuster of The Home Insurance Company of New York City, of the destruction of the home.

Just twenty-three and one-half hours after the fire, or to be exact on Thurday afternoon at 1:30 the special representative had allowed the claim, and the insurance was paid to Mrs. McMillan.

The insurance on the residence was $800.00 and on the furniture $400.00. This is a record in rapidity of settlement. It was a real test of efficiency, and the kind that leaves no doubt for the people who carry

Why not have an old settler's day next year?

Do you know it is as easy to think in big figures as little ones, and the man who catches big fish use big bait?

September has made a beautiful start. If the sample so far received furnishes a correct outlook for the month, business will take on new life and the crop of smiles will be greatly increased.

An exchange is praying for a man who will invent an auto that will last until it is paid for. That depends on who is to do the paying. If it is an editor, he would better split the difference and let it go at that.

General Orozco, the hero of many desperate battles in the numerous revolutions in Mexico, is dead. He made a final fatal mistake. So long as he confined his operations to Mexico he got along very well, but when he undertook to lead a band into Texas his journey was about ended. The general knew Mexico, but he didn't know the Texas ranger. His introduction was four bullets through his body.

The most successful business men are those who do not let their bills run longer than thirty days, and this is a good rule for everybody. It is not always practicable to pay cash in advance, but it is never advisable for a man to let his bills run until he is lost in a maze of debt and confusion. The best way in the world to economize is to pay as you go, and then you will never get in beyond your depths. Those who practice prompt payment always know what they can afford and do not speculate on future income. They don't spend money until they have it in sight, and the man who lives up to that rule is not likely to ever face starvation whether in business or out of business.

COMPANY F LEAVES TOMORROW FOR ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT.

SOME UP; OTHERS DOWN

With the talk of preparedness in the air and thoughts turning everywhere to military affairs, unusual interest attaches to the encampment of the Fourth regiment in Swope park, Kansas City, during the week beginning Sunday.

Col. John D. McNeely of St. Joseph, head officer of the regiment, who will participate in the Swope park encampment, has received instructions for the conduct of the maneuvers there from Capt. C. M. Gordon, a regular army officer, who will be chief instructor of the camp. Headquarters for the Fourth regiment is maintained in Colonel McNeely's office. The schedule of instruction for each day is as follows:

First Lessons in Camp.

First day—Forenoon—Making camp. Afternoon—One-half hour company close order drill, instructions in nomenclature of rifle, rules of safety in handling rifle, sighting, position and aiming drills, instructions in gallery practice with rifle and subtarget shooting for gallery.

Second day—Reveille, position and aiming drill. Forenoon — Batallion close order drill, aiming and sighting exercises, instruction in care of rifle, position and aiming drills, elevation and deflection correction drills, gallery practice, firing on rifle range. Seventh day—Reveille and position and aiming drills. Forenoon—Completion of rifle range firing. Afternoon—Preliminaries for regimental competition, and regimental competition for membership in the national rifle team.

Eighth day—Completion of competition for membership in national rifle team.

Company F, a member of the Fourth regiment, which will encamp next week at Kansas City, will have a quota of between 50 and 60 men in the encampment, according to Captain John K. Ross, today. The company now has an enlistment of 65, several of whom have been away but are returning for the encampment.

A detail consisting of First Sergeant Claude Wilson, and Privates Ray Edmundson and Joseph McNeal, left yesterday afternoon for Kansas City to prepare for the reception of the company on its arrival there tomorrow night. The detail will put up the tents and have the commissary and cooking shanty all ready, likewise a meal all ready for the boys.

The remainder of the company will leave here on the southbound Burlington train tomorrow afternoon and arrive at the camp early tommorrow night. The members will return to Maryville September 13, it is announced.

Changes in the Company.

The following reductions have been ordered this week in Company F, by Colonel John McNeely, commanding the regiment: Seargeants Bert Woodard, Perry Crandall, Clifford Skinner and John Watts and Corporal Thomas Ernest to the rank of private.

These have been promoted to the ranks of sargeants: Otto Long, Veyne Hann, Ross Deets and Arch Colden. These are promoted to the rank of corporals: Bert Kariker, Ralph Clayton and Charles Carnell.

The Fourth regiment band members will not leave Maryville until Sunday morning, it is announced. About twenty-five will accompany the band.

Guests at Hopper Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Emas James of College Springs, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones and young daughter of Mount Arbor, Mo., spent the day yesterday in Maryville the guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Hopper.

Monday is Labor Day.

Next Monday is observed quite generally in the large cities and manufacturing towns as a holiday, it being Labor day. Little attention to the day will be paid in Maryville, however.

Wheat and Oats Now Going Through Separator Over Nodaway County—Quality Poor.

Threshing is now in full swing, as can be readily seen by anyone making a trip over Nodaway county. Nearly every threshing machine in this part of the country is now in the fields, and the familiar whistles of the engines may be heard in almost every direction. While a few machines have been threshing for the past three weeks, it was only a few days ago that the work began in earnest.

There has not been a very large amount of oats threshed yet, according to reports. The farmers are threshing their wheat and timothy seed first. According to reports from over the country the wheat is averaging about twenty-five bushels to the acre.

It is hard to tell what the oats in this part of the country will average, as in almost every field some of the oats had to be left standing on account of the wet ground, and in many places the binders ran over them without cutting them.

According to reports of the farmers the grain is badly colored from the wet weather, and although it will not be first gradde it will find a ready sale.

It will probably be several weeks before the threshing in this part of the country is finished, as it is impossible for the machines to make as much headway as in a dry year. The heavy engines and machines have been having considerable trouble in certain parts of the country in getting through the soft roads and fields.

PREPARE FOR BALL TOURNEY

The baseball teams of Clarinda, Iowa, Hopkins and Clearmont have been selected as three of the four teams to engage in the tournament to be held at Clearmont next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Prizes aggregating $350 are offered.

The Burlington Boosters had first promised to engage in the tournament, but have since declined to engage in the contest, so this leaves one team to be selected yet. Cleve Funk, manager of the Federals here, said he would not enter, as the expenses would be greater than the prize, even should the Feds win first of $125.

The Clearmont band will give concerts during the tournament, the grand stand at the ball park, has been enlarged to seat three times as many as it did.

BEDFORD TO HAVE TOURNAMENT.

Iowa Town to Have Four-Team Base-Ball Contest Sept. 13 to 18.

A four-team base ball tournament will be held at Bedford, Ia., Sept. 13 to 18, for which $350 in prizes are offered. The teams which will compete with Bedford for the prizes have not yet been announced. Bedford came out fourth in the Hopkins tournament.

Miss Clarice Hartman of this city has been re-elected to teach in the primary department of the Sioux City, Ia., schools, which open September 13.

Miss Hartman will leave here next week for Sioux City.

WANTED; ALDERMAN

REMOVAL OF BERT RAINES, COUNCIL HEAD, LEAVES VACANCY.

MAY CALL AN ELECTION

Colleagues May Demand That Position Be Filled at Once—Mayor Can Appoint Soon—Burris Back.

When the city council meets tonight in regular session, there will be one announcement made which may result in a special election being called in Maryville soon for the purpose of electing a councilman for a period of about eight months. For Bert Raines, councilman for the last seventeen months from the Third ward, will announce his removal to the Fourth ward, which consequently will necessitate the selection of a successor.

Mr. Raines' family really moved several days ago but he has been sleeping in a tent in the old place in the Third ward several nights this week, so that he really is entitled to a voice at the meeting tonight. Whether the place will be filled by a special election or the position left open until six months before Raines' time would have expired, when the mayor has power to appoint a successor, has not been determined.

Council May Demand Election.

It is generally believed however, that a majority of the councilmen will vote tonight to make the selection by special election, instead of giving Mayor U. S. Wright that privilege. It is not necessary for Mr. Raines to resign, the place becoming vacant automatically on his removal.

Mr. Raines was elected councilman from the Third ward in April, 1914, for a term of two years.

The appointment of a city clerk also will come up tonight. Mayor Wright announced this morning that he would again name William Burris for thirty days, for that position.

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL

Will open for the Fall Quarter Tuesday, September 14th, 1915. Let the above remind the citizens of Maryville and Nodaway county that they have at home an educational institution of collegiate rank, equipped and maintained by the state and doing work of equal worth in comparison with other institutions of its kind, and commended by educators of national standing. It offers:

1. A standard four-year college course for high school graduates, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education, including professional training in education and opportunity for specialization in various lines. This course is equal to any standard academic college course.

2. A three-year college course for high school graduates, leading to a life diploma and a minimum preparation for high school teaching.

3. A two-year college course for high school graduates, leading to a life diploma for teaching in rural and elementary schools.

4. A one-year college course for high school graduates, leading to a two-year state certificate for teaching in the public schools.

5. A standard high school course, fitting the student for entrance to the above college courses and open to those who have only partial or no high school advantages in their home community.

6. A Rural Certificate course of three years of standard high school work. This certificate is issued by the State Superintendent of Schools. The amount of time necessary to complete it is dependent upon the amount of high school work the student has already completed. This course will become a four-year course after January, 1917.

The Normal School faculty is made up of men and women trained in our best universities and colleges, the extent and adequacy of their training comparing very favorably with the best of other institutions of like grade. Its equipment is extensive and adequate and is carefully selected. Its courses of study are carefully arranged to meet comparison with the best, and embody due emphasis upon the standard culture courses, as well as the newer points of view in Agriculture, Home Economics, Manual Training, Music, Art and Physical Education, and in the technique of the theory and practice of teaching and the administration of education.

Its phases of work are grouped under the representative heads of Agriculture, Biology, Chemistry, Commerce, Education, English, Fine Arts, Geography, German, History and Government, Home Economics, Manual Arts, Mathematics, Music, Physical Education, Physics, Public Speaking.

The incidental fees are low and comparatively few in number.

Why send your sons and daughters long distances from home to secure what is practically at your door?

Hundreds of citizens of Maryville do not know this school well enough to give their friends and relatives in other places and the stranger who may inquire, an adequate and correct impression of its significance, its high grade work, or the extent of its equipment. We trust they will visit the school and gain a present day viewpoint. Its standards are right—its results must be right. May we not ask home folks to get acquainted with what is recognized as high grade elsewhere?

Do not forget that those of you who have work which you can give to others during the fall, winter and spring months may help worthy young men and women by notifying me.

Those who would keep students in their homes for board or room or both must have their places approved before we can place them on our list or send students to them. This is done by the majority of schools and colleges. Please do not object to it.

Remember the Fall Quarter opens Tuesday, September 14th, and the enrollment of the children of the Training School will be on Wednesday, September 15, 1915.

Very truly yours,
IRA RICHARDSON, President.

HONEST INSPECTOR NOT ENCOURAGED

Local Juries Won't Convict, Says Mrs. Florence Kelley.

SHE WANTS A FEDERAL LAW.

Child labor laws will not be enforced until there is a federal law which the government will enforce. So Mrs. Florence Kelley told the Eleventh Annual Conference on Child Labor at its recent San Francisco meeting. During her wide and varied experience Mrs. Kelley has accumulated many examples of why a state child labor law can never be properly enforced and why the federal government must take a hand in it.

"After a state child labor law is on the statute books the difficulties of the inspectors are only a part of the obstacles that confront the state in getting that law enforced. If an inspector works very hard he is commonly removed—that is, if he works hard and honestly and ably. I have watched inspectors working hard, honestly and ably being removed for thirty-three years. One who does not work hard and ably and honestly will probably be removed anyhow when the politics of the state changes.

"While the inspector is working hard, ably and honestly it is exceedingly difficult to get a law enforced, if prosecution is required, because local magistrates are usually reluctant to enforce it and local juries to uphold it. Some years ago we were prosecuting in Chicago a certain sweater who had employed sixteen girls illegally. A dozen witnesses were subpoenaed, and they all swore cheerfully that the law had been kept, although they knew that they had been working illegally that day.

"The justice thought it a merry jest that we could not get warrants against those perjured witnesses. He said, 'If I were going to choke my office up with perjury suits against witnesses in minor cases we would not get any business done,' so those perjured witnesses went scot free."

As a further illustration Mrs. Kelley spoke of the difficulty the New York State Department of Labor has experienced in the past two years in prosecuting canners. The trouble was not with perjured witnesses there, but with local juries. The local juries would not convict because most of them were farmers who sell their goods to the canneries and had no idea of participating in the punishment of their customers. "That condition is so widespread throughout New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware," said Mrs. Kelley, "that there is no present hope of enforcing the child labor law in the canneries of those states with local jurors in local courts.

"I do not share the millennial belief that we shall in any near future have our laws obeyed by the agreement of employers and employees in industries in which the employees are unorganized. Laws are obeyed only where there are powerful organizations of workers to compel obedience. But where there is a body of helpless aliens, as in most sweated industries, or in remote villages far from the searchlight it will take a great deal of evidence to convince me that all employers will voluntarily obey the child labor law. Our immediate need is the passage of a federal child labor law to enable the federal government to enforce the law."

A federal law would not only protect people outside of North Carolina from receiving goods manufactured by children in North Carolina, but it would protect people in that state from having to buy tenement goods from New York.—Owen R. Lovejoy.

If you want to see white children in many southern communities you must go before sunrise and catch them on their way to the cotton mills. Only colored children are to be seen going to and from school.

If the eight hour day really took all children under sixteen out of the factories we should not have to work toward a sixteen year age limit.—Owen R. Lovejoy.

CITY BOARD ORDERS THOROUGH PROBE OF NEW PROPOSITION.

WOULD CUT EXPENSE AND GET "SOFT" AQUA

Experimental Tests Show Better Fluid On East Side of River —Would Pipe It Across Stream.

The sand point system for the municipal water plant is to be carried to the east side of the 102 river, according to plans now under way by the Board of Public works. Superintendent J. H. Martin and Mr. Hooper, who had charge of the installation of the sand points on this side of the river, were instructed to carry on such an investigation, at a meeting of the board of public works last night.

Several experimental points have been put down this week, under the direction of Superintendent Martin, which has proved that the water on that side of the river is free from iron and is not "hard" like that taken from the wells on this side. The water otherwise is also believed to be of a better grade.

In such a case there would be no need for aeration as now is the case, so that the water could be pumped directly from the sand point wells to the reservoir up town. At present the sand point water must be pumped into a reservoir and aerated, thereby requiring two pumpings.

Would Pipe it Across.

It is planned to convey the water in a ten-inch pipe over the dam, across the river. The pipe would be placed about one foot below the water surface and directly above or against the dam works.

By laying it in this position, it is believed the pipe would be in less danger through drift or ice floes. It is not believed by Mr. Martin nor Mr. Hooper that the expense would be great and that the cost of pumping the water from the other side of the river would be less than in pumping from this side.

The board of public works will make an estimate of the cost of such an improvement and decide soon whether to install several permanent points on that side and lay a pipe across the river.

No other business was done by the board at its meeting last night, except to allow the usual bills.

MOTOR CARS TODAY

AUTOS AND CYCLES HAVE FAIR RACE TRACK THIS AFTERNOON.

MANY SPEEDERS ENTERED

The automobile, the motorcycle and the bicycle are holding the race track at the county fair this afternoon, while a crowd packed dozens deep around the course and nearly double decked through the grand stand and as big as yesterday, is witnessing it.

The races started with a farmers' county half-mile trot or pace, followed by a mule race of one mile. But then came the motor races, first being a twenty-mile automobile dash for a purse of $100. Then came a twenty-mile motorcycle dash, then a two-mile automobile dash for stock or dealers' cars only.

The next race is to be a one-mile automobile race, under the conditions that speedometers must be covered and driver have no timepieces. The winner will be the one making the mile nearest to three minutes, it being more of a time race than a speed race.

A two-mile motorcycle dash is to follow with a one-mile bicycle race for boys under 16 years old, as the finale, this afternoon.

Tomorrow's Races.

Races scheduled for tomorrow, the closing day of the county fair, are the 2:20 trot, three-fourths mile running race for non-winners, a seven-eighths mile race with Derby winners barred, a "get-away special" for five-eighths mile, and as a finale a farmers' half-mile dash county pony race for horses under 15 hands high.

Will Devote Life and Fortune to Cause of Amity.

WAR USELESS SLAUGHTER.

Asserts That Isolation of United States Is Sufficient Insurance Against Invasion and Warns Country Against Preparedness, Which He Calls the Root of All War.

Detroit, Mich.—Henry Ford's wealth, gained in the pursuit of the things of peace, will be offered to the world to aid in its effort for an unending peace, to oppose the spirit of militarism in every form and to challenge the American who cries for more armament for his country.

"I will do everything in my power to prevent murderous, wasteful war in America and in the whole world; will devote my life to fight this spirit which is now felt in the free and peaceful air of the United States—the spirit of militarism, mother to the cry of 'Preparedness,' the root of all war."

These words, uttered by Henry Ford, mark the beginning of what henceforth will be the life work of the man—to strike with everything he commands at what he declares to be the direct cause of all war and all national antipathies that breed war—preparedness.

"I would teach the child at its mother's knee," said Mr. Ford, "what a horrible, wasteful and unavailing thing war is. In the home and in the schools of the world I would see the child taught to feel the uselessness of war, that war is a thing unnecessary, that preparation for war can end only in war.

"I have prospered much, and I am ready to give much to end this constant, wasteful 'preparation'—not by building peace, not by inspiring fearful peace by powerful armament, but by teaching the men, women and children of America that war does not threaten us, that war will not reach us, and that the fullness of peace is their inheritance, not the burden of militarism.

"They have called in Thomas Edison to help their war plans. Let me say that Mr. Edison never has had and, in my opinion, never will use his great brain to make anything which would destroy human life or human property. He could destroy nothing. His mind is a constructive mechanism that abhors destruction, and war is destruction. He is a man of peace, for he realizes the true meaning of war—wanton, unnecessary and unreasoning destruction, death and disruption of all that peace has builded.

"We build a vast naval machine today. A few months hence it is surpassed by that of another country and is practically useless. We give our soldiers a death dealing rifle. Tomorrow another nation's soldiers have a weapon that surpasses ours.

"The United States has spent more than a billion dollars on a navy and army that were to cope with an invasion that never occurred and never will occur. And yet the very 'war experts' who are responsible for that burdensome army and navy admit that our army and navy would never have been able to meet with any hope of success those of other so called powers."

"I could today make vast sums from warfare if I so chose, but it would be better to die a pauper than that anything I have helped to make or that any thought, word or act of mine should be used for the furtherance of this slaughter.

"I know of nothing to which I would rather give my life, nothing that would give me a more certain feeling that I was doing a man's work, nothing that would make me feel more content in the knowledge that I had done a great duty that had been placed before me, than to use that which I have to help bring to an end 6,000 years of this unjustified hatred, ruthless waste, destruction and murder."

18,000 LIBRARIES IN U. S. HAVE 75,000,000 VOLUMES.

Number of Books Has Increased 20,000,000 Since 1908.

New York.—There are 18,000 established libraries in the United States, containing more than 75,000,000 volumes, according to statistics just compiled by the United States bureau of education. The number of volumes is an increase of 20,000,000 since 1908.

Of the 2,849 libraries containing 5,000 volumes or over 1,844 are classified as public and society libraries, and 1,005 are school and college libraries. Public and society libraries have an aggregate of over 50,000,000 volumes, with 7,000,000 borrowers' cards in force; 1,446 of these libraries were entirely free to the public.

Libraries reporting from 1,000 to 5,000 volumes numbered 5,453, of which 2,188 were public and society libraries and 3,265 school libraries. These libraries contained 11,689,942 volumes. Another group of still smaller libraries, comprising those that reported from 300 to 1,000 volumes, increased the total by 2,901,007 volumes.

The distribution of library facilities is still uneven. Of the 1,844 public and society libraries reported for the entire United States more than half were in the north Atlantic states, and they contained 24,627,921 volumes out of the total of 50,000,000, and of the 3,000,000 volumes added to library collections for the year 1913 almost one-half were for the same section.

New York state had 7,812,621 volumes in her 214 libraries; Massachusetts, 7,380,021 in 285 libraries; Pennsylvania, 3,728,070, and Illinois, 3,168,705 volumes. Four-fifths of the borrowers' cards in use were in the north Atlantic and north central states.

JOAN SAWYER DANCES TO AID "THE CAUSE"

Tours Continent In Automobile to Help Woman Suffrage.

New York.—From dancing for the delight of the public to touring the continent in a decorated automobile for the cause of woman's suffrage is Joan Sawyer's recent change in vocation.

In a car presented by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt and Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, with gay suffrage banners floating over it, this modern dancer left New York for San Francisco, bearing a message of good will and congratulation from the eastern suffragists to their sisters in the west.

In every town she dances for the crowds which always gather about her little car, and in many cities the machine blocks all traffic.

"I have never been able to do anything for suffrage before," she says, "because I have always been busy.

Photos by American Press Association.
MISS JOAN SAWYER AS SHE LEFT NEW YORK.

But I felt if this pilgrimage would help in any way I was perfectly willing to undertake it."

Miss Sawyer carries her pilgrim scrip. It is signed by Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, chairman of Manhattan Borough Woman Suffrage party. It follows:

We are intrusting to Miss Joan Sawyer a Nov. 2 New York state victory banner and are sending by her a message to our voting sisters across the continent to help in every way possible in New York state. We ask you who have obtained the franchise to send some of your splendid women to the east to tell our voters what you have done and what you plan to do, and how much more effective your womanhood, wifehood and comradeship are since you have become enfranchised.

Our chance for winning in New York state grows brighter every day. We feel that victory is certain, but want you all to help make assurance doubly sure.

A CHARTER FOR CHILDHOOD.

Ohio Codifies Child Welfare Laws, but No Other State Does.

If any one asks what the laws affecting children are in New York state no person in any position can without considerable research answer the question, according to a statement made by Homer Folks at the Eleventh Annual Conference on Child Labor. The only state in the Union where it could be readily answered is Ohio, since Ohio is the only state that has codified its child welfare laws.

A committee appointed last May at the National Conference of Charities and Corrections, with C. C. Carstens of Boston at its head and Edward N. Clopper of the National Child Labor Committee as one of its most active members, is now at work drafting a children's charter that would show how all laws relating to children should be co-ordinated and that could be adopted as a whole or in part according to the needs of the individual state.

The benefits of the children's charter will not be confined to a clearing up of the principles on which the various organizations and committees which are interested in the needs and rights of childhood should base their work. In fact, the friends of the charter are inclined to believe that its greatest value may lie in the simple fact that it will encourage co-operation. The drafting of the charter, which will be in itself a co-operative effort, will teach workers in the various fields to think of their work as a part of a larger whole. The relation, for instance, between the school attendance officer, the factory inspector, the juvenile court worker and the administrator of mothers' pensions will become a practical help to each of them. For the child such co-operation all along the line should mean that the care that is now available for the child who happens to come under the eye of the official or social worker who is fitted to meet his case will be extended to a larger proportion of those who need it.

BOYS ON THE NIGHT SHIFT.

Pennsylvania Now Prohibits It, but Maryland and West Virginia Do Not.

After Jan. 1, 1916, no more young boys will be working on the night shift in the glass factories of the largest glass manufacturing state in the country—Pennsylvania.

This means that West Virginia and Maryland are now the only glass manufacturing states of any importance which permit children under sixteen to work at night. An attempt was made in West Virginia last winter to prohibit night work to children under sixteen, but the bill did not pass. The National Child Labor Committee, which took an active part in the campaign for the West Virginia law, believes that the outcome will be quite different the next time, because the glass manufacturers there will no longer fear the competition of Pennsylvania.

"We may not even have to wait until the legislatures meet in 1917 to bring these states into line," said Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary of the National Child Labor Committee. "If the federal child labor bill which will be introduced into congress early in the next session becomes a law it will automatically establish a sixteen year limit for night work in the glass factories of Maryland and West Virginia. The children now exposed to the serious physical harm likely to come from going out into the air from the overheated glass factory and the cramped positions in which they work, combined with the degrading and coarsening influences which prevail on the night force in the factory, will be protected by Uncle Sam.

"If you could see the boys, as I have seen them, working in a temperature which frequently rises to more than 100 degrees, their shoes cut with the broken glass which covers the floor, holding the mold for the red hot glass or walking endlessly back and forth carrying bottles to the annealing oven, you would realize that the only thing that mattered was to get them out the quickest and surest way—by means of a federal law."
